KKL

Complex Commercial Litigation

We are among the most experienced trial lawyers in the business, and we bring all of that experience and acumen to benefit clients who are facing high-stakes commercial litigation.

We represent financial institutions, public and private companies, and high-net-worth individuals in any industry and in any forum – federal, state or arbitration, and across borders. We revel in the toughest, most complex disputes. Our experience spans antitrust, biotechnology and biopharmaceuticals, sophisticated contractual disputes, cryptocurrencies, employment, intellectual property, real estate, securities and many other complex commercial disputes.

A boutique of elite trial lawyers, we are agile, strategic, and streamlined, and we are more cost-effective than our competitors at big firms. We are willing to enter into innovative fee structures that closely align our interests with our clients' interests. We use litigation to help our clients vindicate their rights and achieve their business objectives.

We guide our clients through every stage of litigation, from early-stage negotiation through appeal. We are always ready for trial. When clients hire KKL, they send a message to their opponents: they are fighting to win.